O good St. Joseph, in your name . . . we ask for grace and light . . . to lead a better life each day . . . by doing what is right . . . Inspire us to holiness . . . and virtue unashamed . . . Instill in us the zeal with which your spirit was inflamed . . . Watch over us in happiness . . . and when our hopes are dim . . . protect us from all harm and hurt . . . as you protected Him . . . O good and kind St. Joseph . . . be our foster father, too . . . and let us bring our problems . . . and our troubled hearts to you . . . Teach us to work for Jesus Christ . . . with every deed and breath . . . Help us to live a holy life . . . And die a happy death . . .

guardians of the spirit

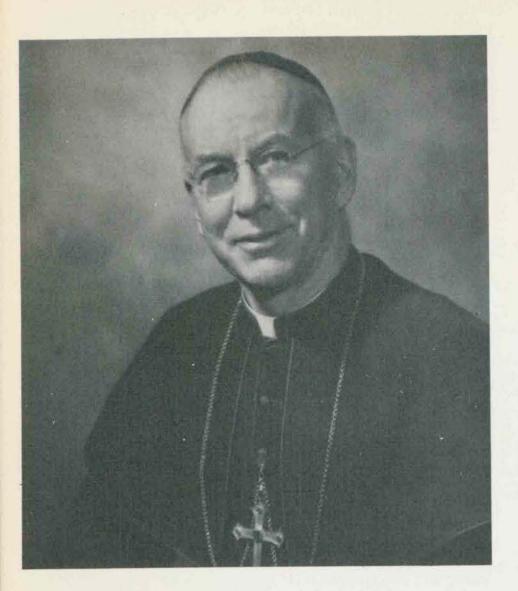

administration and faculty

The spirit characteristic of Mount St. Joseph is guided by the priests, Sisters and laymen who are its administrators and teachers. This able and dedicated body gives time and efforts to channel the energies which are the fruits of school spirit into positive contributions towards our growth to Christian maturity.

Our Bishop and pastors have always shown a keen and fatherly interest in all that concerns the Academy and its students. We are most fortunate to have two priest-principals who untiringly direct our scholastic and spiritual advancement. Also counted among the guardians of our spirit are nineteen Sisters of St. Joseph and five lay teachers. In the classroom, they promote our mental growth by careful and conscientious instruction. Extracurricularly, they devote many hours of their free time to advising our activities, sponsoring our organizations and coaching our athletics.

We, their pupils, realize and appreciate their endeavors to form us physically, socially, intellectually and spiritually to become "true and perfect Christians."

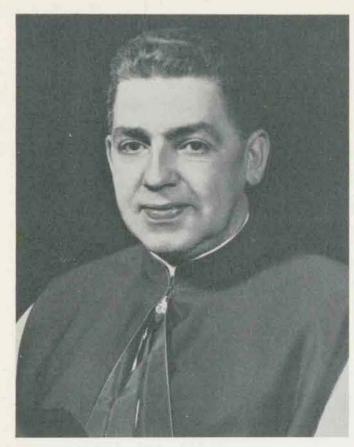

MOST REV. ROBERT F. JOYCE, D.D. Bishop of Burlington

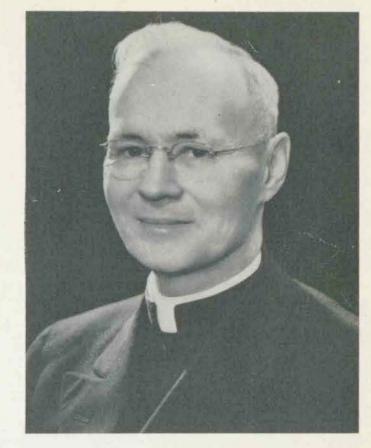

The doors of 52 Williams Street in Burlington are always open to Academy students and alumni who wish to visit our Bishop, and a cordial reception awaits them.

Before his appointment as head of our diocese, Bishop Joyce was pastor of St. Peter's. He also served as chairman of the committee which planned the addition to Mount St. Joseph.

We at Mount St. Joseph are grateful to the Bishop for his continual interest in our spiritual and material growth.

principal's message

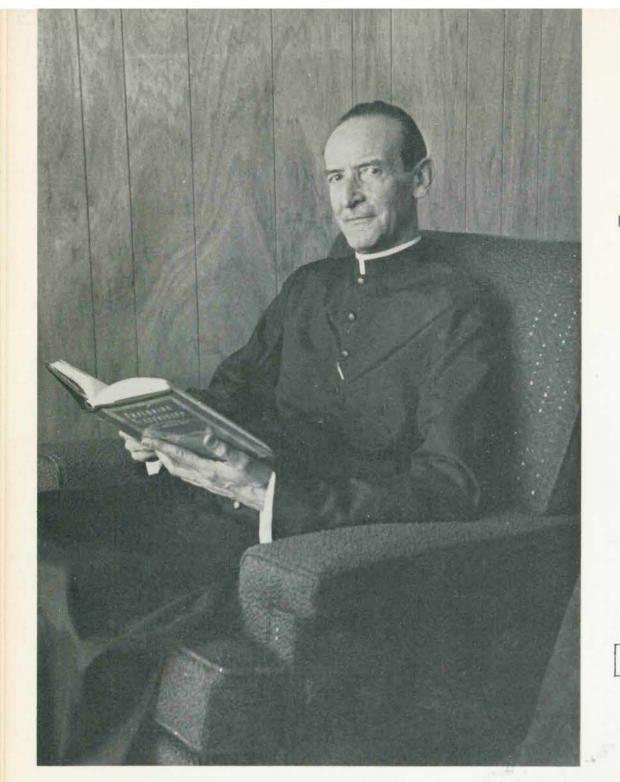

K.O.—K.O.—'59 Keep on—keeping on— Class of 1959. This is taken in part from the Chamber of Commerce membership drive this year. It contains a point; keeping on at times is anything but easy, yet to keep on keeping on spells the difference between success and failure.

You have persevered through four years of high school. Your graduation as you know is called a "commencement exercise," because it marks a beginning not an end. Yours it is then to continue on in the pursuit of your eternal salvation, your education and your fulfillment of your vocation in this world.

The good wishes, the prayers and the confidence in you of all at the Academy are expressed then in this line, K.O.—K.O.—'59.

God Bless You, Father Lynch

spirit of learning

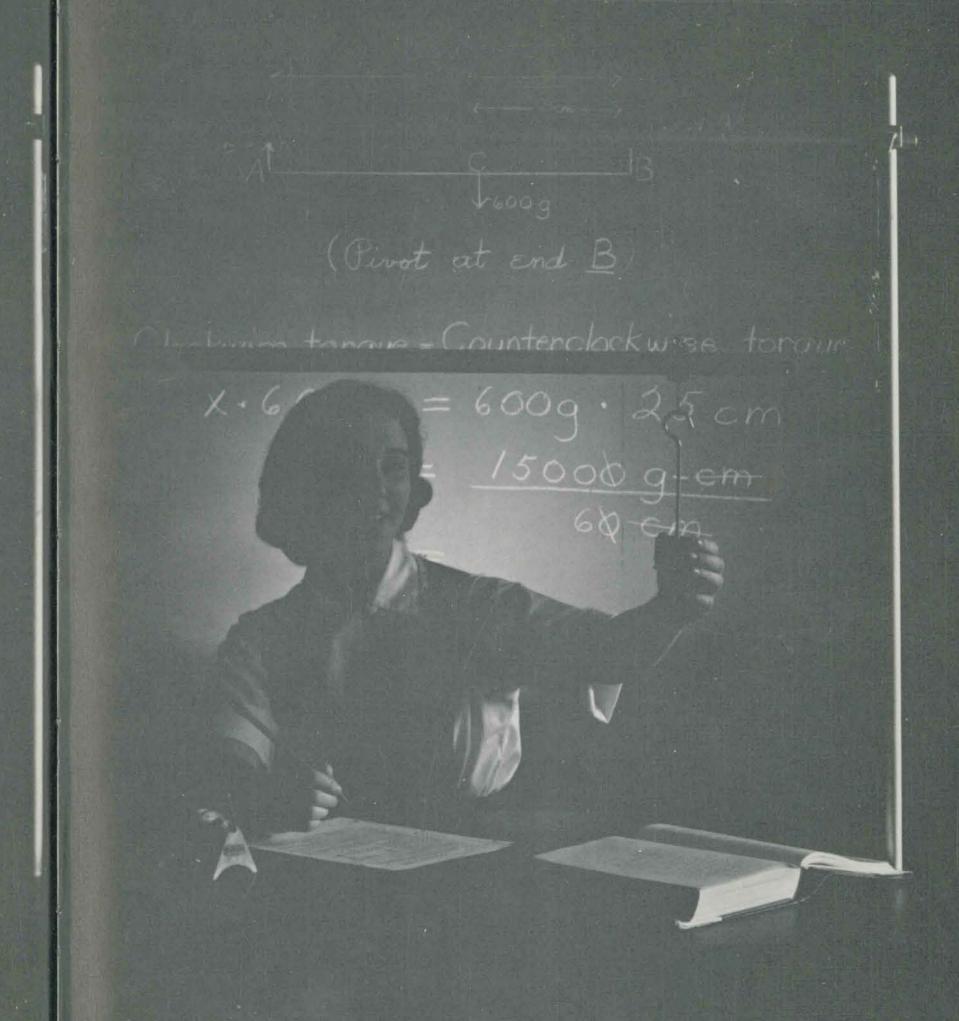

classes

Let us not neglect that most important spirit which should be a part of every school, the Spirit of Learning. It is not lacking at the Academy. It is an eager spirit that prevails for five hours of the day throughout the school week. In that time, thoughts are turned to studies and the real purpose of our school life is shown forth.

In the classrooms we meet freshmen, bewildered yet eager; sophomores, adjusted and lively; juniors, industrious and friendly; and seniors, serious about the future and determined to graduate.

A typical day at the Academy begins with a short homeroom period at 8:35 A.M. and ends at the conclusion of the seventh period at 2:45 P.M. Between these hours dwells the school day. Sometimes it moves swiftly, and sometimes very slowly. The day holds classes of math, science, typing, shorthand, religion and various languages. These are a part of the courses offered here at the Academy; the College Preparatory, Business, General and Trade Industrial Courses.

This is the Academy spirit in action, an eager spirit, practicing what we are taught.

a reverent spirit

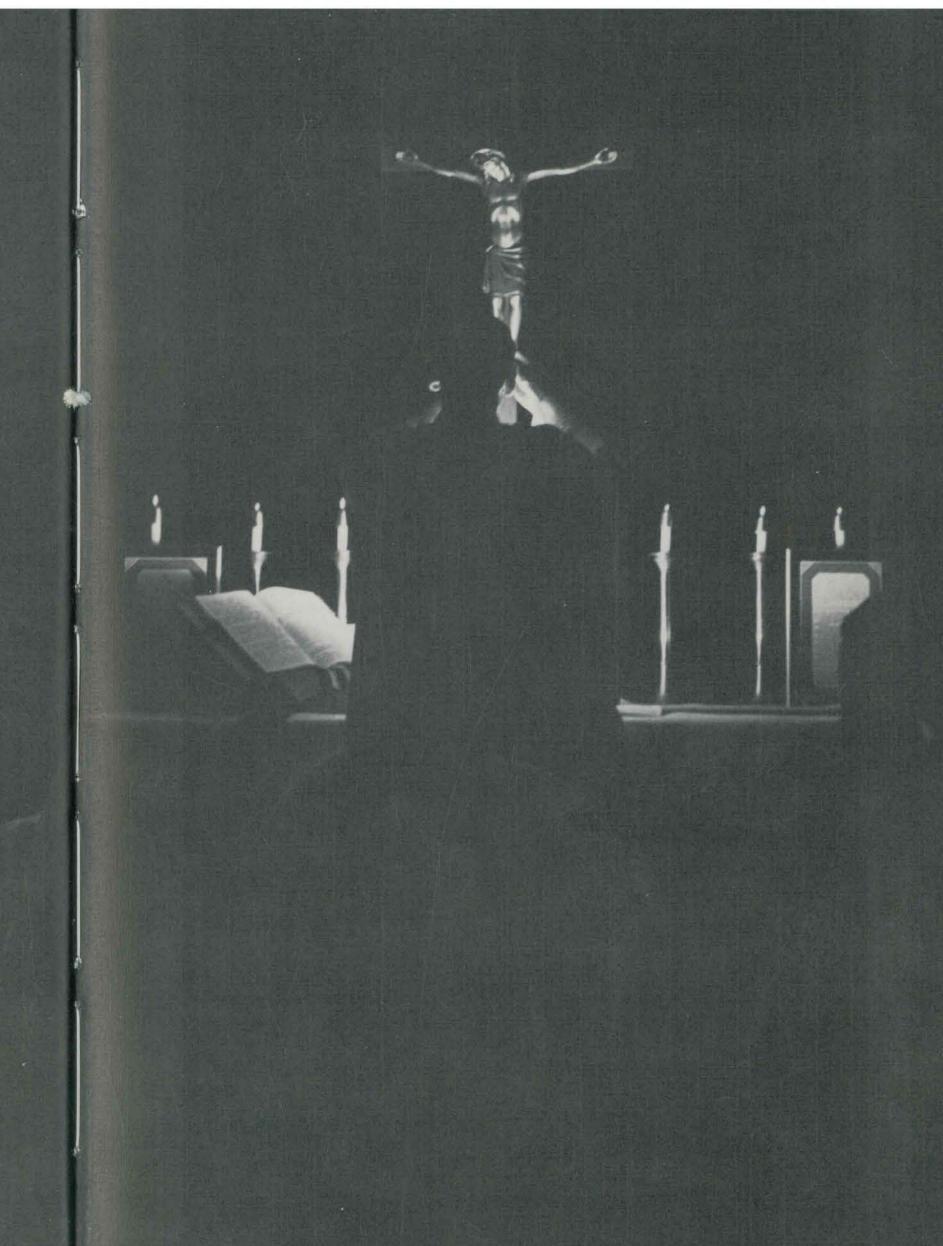

religious events

Several times during the school year, the regular class schedule is interrupted as the student body participates in religious ceremonies. At these times, pupils turn their minds and hearts to God and a spirit of reverence prevails at M.S.J.

Each Wednesday at noon, Father Ready offers Mass in honor of our patron, St. Joseph.

The facilities of the new gymtorium have enabled us to have religious assemblies previously impossible. For the first time in many years, the students can assemble in a body for such events as Retreat, May Crowning, etc.

A spirit of devotion, of quiet, of prayer predominates at Mount St. Joseph at these observances which we are privileged to have.

Father McDonough, assisted by a group of his altar boys, offered the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Black-garbed girls in front row are also Father's parishioners; they recited the choral parts of the Mass.

liturgical day marks opening of gymtorium

Outstanding feature of the Mass was the Offertory procession, during which students placed their unconsecrated hosts in ciboria.

Certainly, Thursday, October 23, which marked the opening of the new gymtorium, was one of the most memorable of the school year. Father Francis McDonough, chairman of the Diocesan Liturgical Commission, traveled from Shelburne with a group of his high school girls and boys to participate in the Academy Liturgical Day. Students assisted at the first event to take place in the gymtorium, the celebration of High Mass, offered as a "gratitude Mass" for the new addition.

Jane McCue offers her wafer of bread.

Bishop Joyce celebrated the dialog Mass. Bernard and John Reilly were the servers.

After Mass, the Bishop addressed the students.

prayer and thoughtfulness characterize vocation day

In compliance with the wishes of Bishop Joyce, Mount St. Joseph joined the rest of the diocese in ten days of special prayer for vocations during April, designated as vocation month in Vermont. Friday, April 24, marking the close of the decade, was known at the Academy as Vocation Day. At eleven o'clock, the-Bishop offered the Missa Recitata in the gymtorium. After lunch, pupils reassembled to hear a panel of MSJ graduates discuss their respective vocations.

Sister Joseph Augustine (Helene Harvey), described her Congregation, the Missionary Servants of the Most Holy Trinity.

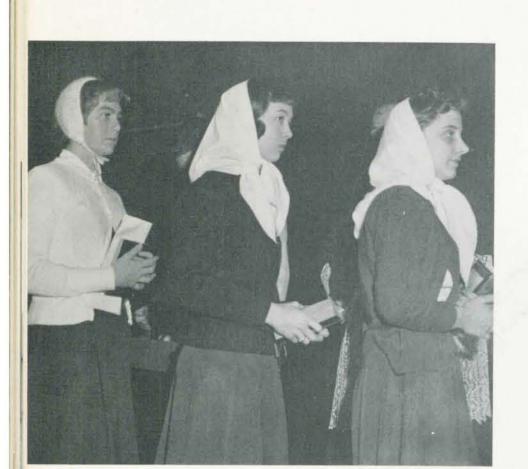

Mrs. Eleanore Armell Courcelle, mother of Paul, Justin and Joseph discussed the vocation of wife and mother.

Father Lynch made introductory remarks. Panelists included: Brother Hyacinth, CSC, Sister Joseph Augustine, '52, Mrs. Courcelle, '30, Sister Mary of Fatima, Mr. James Canary, '38, Sister Madonna Therese '48, Robert Clark, SJ, '53, Sister M. Catherine, '55, Father Francis Nugent, '48.

Father Conmy

Mary Zullo, Patricia Ryan and Marilyn Haley offer their retreat resolutions to Our Lady.

Retreat is always one of the highlights of the school year. Immediately after the mid-term exams, Academites put away their books and classroom cares to spend three days in attending conferences, in spiritual reading and in thoughtful prayer.

This year, we were privileged to have as our Retreat Master Father Gerald Conmy, C.S.C., of North Easton, Massachusetts.

Marilyn Haley was chosen by her Senior class to crown Mary. She is accompanied by Margaret Moore who acted as crownbearer.

The May Crowning, as always, was a highlight of the school year. This year the ceremony was held on May 29 in the gym with the entire school attending. As in previous years the student May Queen is a Senior girl voted on by her classmates. She is the girl who is the most Mary-like and deserving of the honor of crowning Our Lady.

The ceremony consisted of the crowning of the Blessed Virgin statue, a hymn solo, presentation of flowers by the President of the Student Council, an Act of Consecration read by the Senior Class President and an inspiring talk by Father Lynch.

organizations and activities

The various activities and organizations at the Mount help us to become the well-rounded and co-ordinated citizens which Christian education aims to make of us.

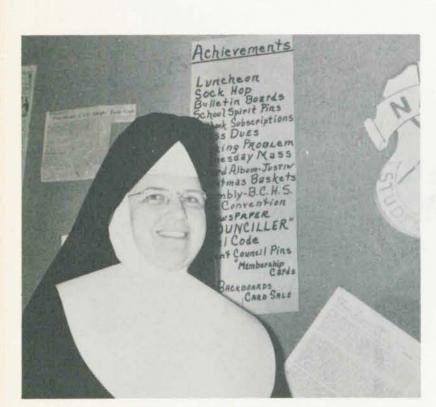

Here, dependability and willingness to work shine forth. Necessary to the smooth functioning of any body is the spirit of dependability. Likewise, no group can exist unless its members are imbued with the spirit of willingness to serve.

Each organization has a serious and beneficial purpose, putting to practical use the free time of its student participants. Thus, the school, the group and the organization are benefited

By means of special projects and discussions, the F.T.A. aims to help students decide whether they will pursue a teaching career.

This year's projects included a bulletin board contest, selling fudge at the Sisters' Christmas Sale, a $50 scholarship for a senior going into teaching, assisting teachers after school and a picnic at the end of the year. A point system was inaugurated by which members can earn pins after accumulating a certain number of points by serving on committees, as officers, writing reports and helping on projects. A major undertaking was the publication of a semi-annual state Newsletter.

The National Honor Society also sent Care packages at Christmas time and for the second year undertook the Share project within the school.

The biggest event of the year was the Awards Assembly held May 18 in the gym. This was a most successful undertaking and concluded with the final induction ceremony of the year. Three Seniors, five Juniors and two Sophomores made up the new members. These added to the eleven Juniors and Seniors inducted in February bring the total to thirty-four.

honor society national

While the National Honor Society is ordinarily a purely honorary organization, this year it functioned as something more, being active as the need occurred. They were called on to serve four luncheons and suppers when the school played host to such groups as the Rutland Professional Women and the Catholic Business Education Association. This year the N.H.S. also served their annual reunion banquet in the cafeteria instead of holding it at a restaurant. This gave the Sisters who were former members an opportunity to attend.

One of the most enjoyable undertakings was the combined concert with Rutland High School at the high school. This Spring Concert consisted of a varied selection of numbers which were presented after many hours of practice. The highlight of the year was the band and Glee Club concert of May 28. Other appearances included the Variety Show and the St. Michael's Glee Club concert. The Marching Band besides appearing in the annual Rutland parades traveled to Fair Haven, Springfield and Burlington.

The Mount St. Joseph Band combined with the R.H.S. group form the letter "M" in front of the Academy stands during the half-time show at the annual Armistice Day football game.

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Pelton, the Glee Club spent a very busy yet enjoyable year. For the first time in many years the Academy Glee Club joined with Rutland High in an evening of combined choral music which was enjoyed by a large audience. Members were chosen from the club to represent our school at both All-State, which was held in Burlington, and at All-New England which was held this year in Barre, Vermont. Our Glee Club was given the privilege of joining with six other schools in the "Big Sing" held for the first time this year at Rutland High School. It is hoped that this will become an annual event. We finished the year in May with a concert in the Academy Gymtorium. At this concert an audience of parents and friends heard a varied selection of Glee Club numbers as well as selections by the All-State representatives.

spirit of success

Within any group there are leaders and outstanding members who give unselfishly of their time and talents for the benefit of all. So it is at the Mount. Because of the large number of worthy students a separate section has been devoted to them.

Some of these are the Mount personalities who have attained success by scholarship or by work in extracurricular activities. Others have been given recognition by their fellow students through senior ballots or Service awards. Athletic prowess and leadership are also recognized and rewarded.

These are the stars who make up our hall of fame.

Department of Public Health Brattleboro, Vermont November 4, 1959

Administration Mount St. Joseph Academy Rutland, Vermont

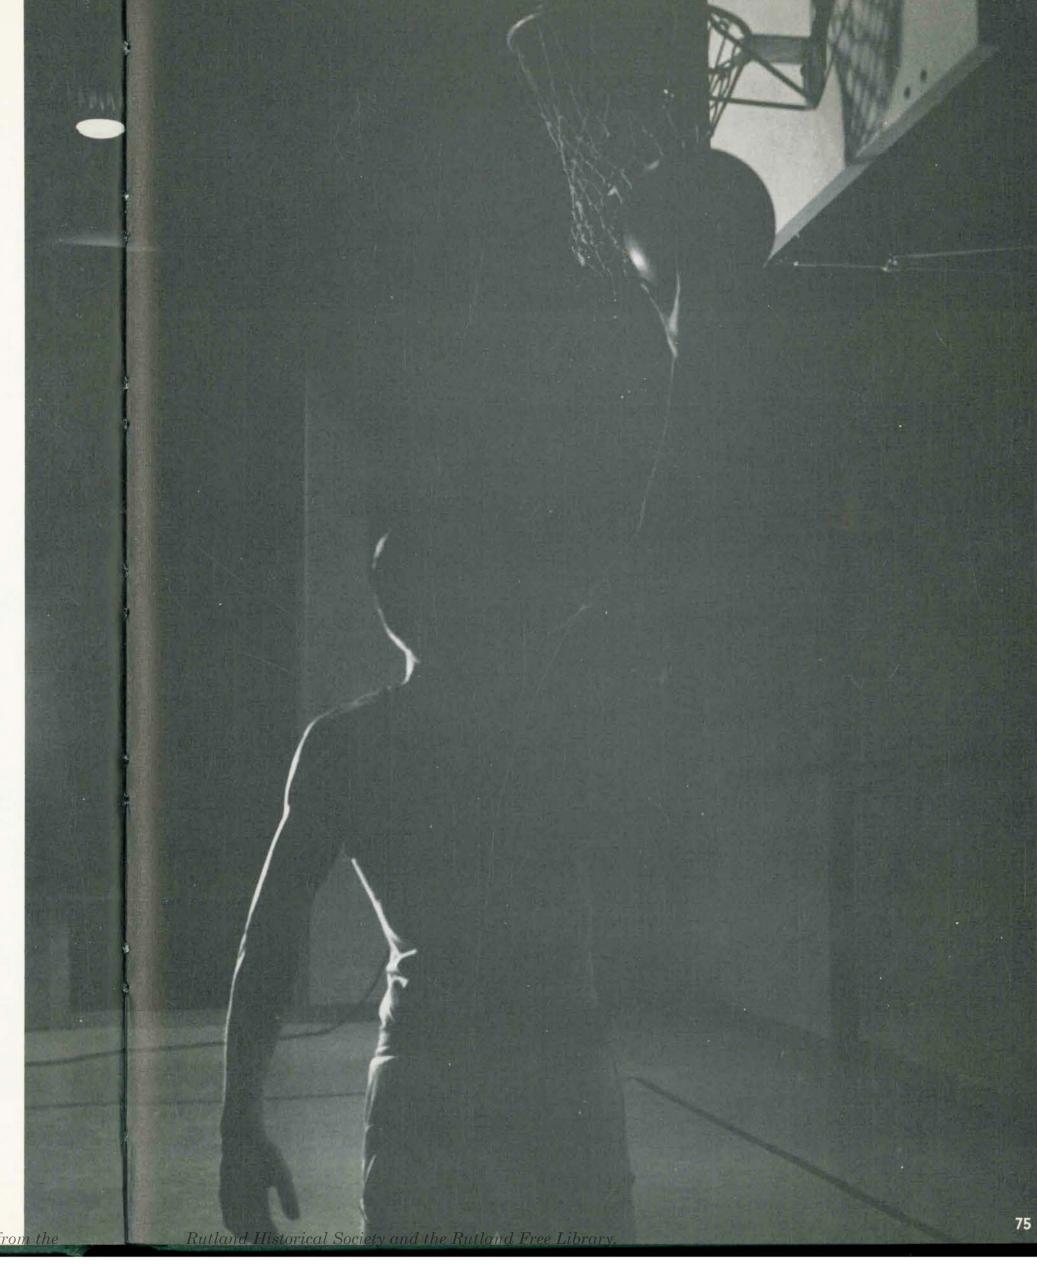

Dear Sirs:

On Saturday, November 1, the supporters, team members and cheerleaders of Brattleboro Union High School witnessed the greatest display of good sportsmanship that I believe has ever been seen in Vermont high schools.

After losing a heartbreaker, the crucial game of the year, your student body, cheer-leaders, band and followers set an example for all high schools by cheering your team AND the Brattleboro team and coach outside your school. This display of grace, courtesy and sportsmanship has been talked about and praised more than any feature of the game itself.

Any team that represents a school and followers of such dignity richly deserves their support. May this type of athletics always survive and prosper.

Very truly yours, Lester H. Lovell, D.O. (signed)

spirit of accomplishment

After four years of study and activity at the Mount, the Seniors feel justified in their spirit of accomplishment.

They have spent a major part of their teen years under the guidance and supervision of the M.S.J. faculty. They are now embarking on the independent life journeys for which they have been preparing. They have grown from uncertain Freshmen to serious Seniors and are now ready to put into practice the principles they have been taught.

A Senior's days are busy but they are not without thought to the generosity of his parents who have made his priceless Catholic education possible. The Senior has a spirit of pride; pride in his accomplishments, in his school, and in those benefactors who, with his parents, have made it all possible.

June third and fourth were devoted to the annual Senior Retreat with Father Raymond Doherty, S.S.E., as Retreat Master. The Wednesday and Thursday sessions consisted of Mass and conference in the morning and a second conference in the afternoon. The Apostolic Blessing was conferred at the closing Graduation Mass held Friday morning in the gymnasium with the entire school in attendance.

Father Doherty here delivers one of his inspiring talks to the Seniors at one of the conferences held in the chapel. Father spoke on the importance of choosing the right road in life and not getting too involved in the material things of creation. He also spoke on the necessity of staying close to Mary who will never desert us.

Father Doherty chats with a group of Seniors during the breakfast break after Mass. Seated are Marcia Bean, Mary Camarda, and Bob Graves. Standing are Grace Ley and Harold Looby.

Mardi-Gras Queen Lorraine Reilly, surrounded by her lovely court, reigned for one memorable evening over the annual Senior Ball held June 1st in the new Academy Gymtorium. Lorraine's court was composed of finalists—Nancy Parsons, Judy Parizo, Nancy Cannon, and Mary Camarda.

John Dupee, as Father Ready, sets the audience in an uproar as he scolds boys caught breaking the "No Smoking" rule. It was the first of three skits pantomiming school life.

A typical lunchroom scene is portrayed by a group of Senior girls as they talk over the events of the winter months in the second skit of the evening.

The final skit of the Class Night program has St. Peter's Field for its setting. Here the spring activities are discussed by the interested MSJ fans.

Mary Lawrence seriously proclaims what members of the Senior class will be doing in years to come. Lorraine Reilly patiently waits her turn to read the final portion of the prophecy.

The Sacred Heart presided over the graduation Mass which was this year attended by the entire school. Father Dougherty, Senior Retreat Master, offered the Mass; here witnessed by three Seniors.

Salutatory address is given by Nancy Parsons during Commencement exercises. The leadership qualities of such men as Samuel deChamplain and Washington Irving are emphasized.

The exemplary lives of Mother St. John and St. John Vianney are models for us as brought out in Lorraine Reilly's Valedictory.

Faculty and Senior Class officers seated at the head table enjoy themselves at the Communion luncheon held in the cafeteria. The top ten Juniors, under the direction of Sister Agnes Marie, served as hosts and hostesses.

Linda Keezer receives her diploma from Father Lynch from an aisle seat due to a sprained ankle. Crutches couldn't dampen her smile as evidenced here.

CLASS OF 1959—FIRST ROW: C. Fleming, M. Zullo, G. Ley, N. Parsons, P. Ryan, M. McKirryher, L. Boule, C. Faulkner, P. Burke, J. Parizo, F. O'Connell, M. Lawrence, P. Heath, C. Gilmore, M. O'Brien, M. The Class of '59 leaves the Academy with high ideals and great hopes for the future.

Because high schools do not have sufficient funds provided for the express purpose of publishing an annual, outside financial help is sought. In our case this is found in the Rutland concerns and businesses which desire to make use of the advertising facilities offered them by the Mount.

Cooperation is the significant spirit of this section. The following pages contain the names of the people who make our yearbooks possible. Without them any amount of work by any size staff would be of little avail. They cooperate by donating money for the production of the annual and the students do their part by patronizing the respective businesses.
